PROFESSIONAL UFO DETECTOR

Here at last...a device for detecting magnetic fields. In response to numerous demands for a sensitive, reliable instrument, we proudly announce the full-scale production of our SENTRY Model U.F.O. Detector.

This is not a toy, but a scientific instrument for use by serious researchers. This is just the kind of physical confirmation U.F.O. sightings have long needed.

The SENTRY is equipped with Audio/Visual alarm systems for 24 hour magnetic surveillance of your area. It can operate indoors or out. Eliminates tedious hours of "sky watching". Just think how many "over-flights" have gone unnoticed in the last few years! Most of the U.F.O.'s reported are silent. They are inconspicuous in the daylight hours. This is the only system we know of that will alert you to an approaching U.F.O. while you relax in the comfort of your home!

An Amazing Invention

* Advantages of the SENTRY Model U.F.O. Detector ***

1. Complete ease of operation...set and forget.
2. Inexpensive to operate...runs on "penlight" batteries, but only when responding to a U.F.O.
3. No construction, wiring, or "kit building"...the SENTRY is completely assembled and ready to operate.
4. Compact design...makes for easy transporting for use in the field or from room to room.
5. Sturdy construction without compromising sensitivity.
6. Will last almost indefinitely...hardly any moving parts, requiring no lubrication, maintenance, or adjustments.
7. Attractive appearance...you'll be proud to display your SENTRY to anyone!

Until now, sightings have been made with luck. The SENTRY replaces luck with science, and coincidence with certainty. As a matter of fact, without the SENTRY U.F.O. Detector...more than ever before...you don't know what you're missing!

To get your SENTRY Model U.F.O. Detector, send $10.00 cash, check, or money order to...AERIAL RESEARCH SYSTEMS, Dept. 18

sentinel

The "SENTINEL" is the official organ of Aerial Research Systems and features at long last many different areas where the private researcher can actually participate in this important work. Until now, the student of UFOlogy has been relegated to the sidelines, limited to reading about sighting upon sighting...after the fact.

The "SENTINEL" is going to change all that. We have several possibilities just waiting for the right persons. Here are some of the ways you can participate with us in active research...rather than passive observation:

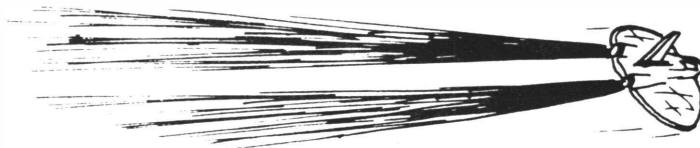

1. The A.R.S. UFO Patrol. Join a network of involved researchers in history's first scientifically based "saucer hunt".
2. The A.R.S. Lunar Patrol. Our natural satellitte has a long history of strange, unexplained "activities" which are increasing annually. Surprisingly...there is a great opportunity for amateur researchers to make a real contribution to this vital and timely study.
3. UFO Patrol Field Representatives. We need honest, dedicated people now. They will investigate sightings in their area and make determinations of the validity of spectacular sightings and landings. The qualifications are discussed in each issue of the "SENTINEL".
4. Unique News Contributions. The "SENTINEL" welcomes items of importance as they relate to the UFO subject from any and all sources. Items accepted for publication will bear the name of the contributor.

... ORDER NOW ! ...

The "SENTINEL" is a bright, exciting new light on the horizen for those persons concerned with the UFO mystery. We will report not only on the UFO phenomena itself, but we will publish responsible theories on UFO origins, objectives, and future activities. To subscribe to the "SENTINEL", the magazine that offers participation in UFO Research, send $4.50 to:

It seems to me as well as my associates that every three months just fly by and here I am talking to you again. One thing is sure the UFO Convention will be a gigantic success this year. We have 27 groups attending with 15 individual researchers from as far west as California, south as Florida, north as Canada and east at New York, truly a complete convention when the four corners are covered. The next issue will cover the commitments voted on by the Congress of Scientific Ufologists.

In the last issue I discovered or brought out the idea of a new kind of booklet or UFOZINE that we are publishing. Well now it can be announced, the name of this UFOZINE is "Flying Saucer Classics". That's right the "CLASSICS". Never before published anywhere. The "Flying Saucer Classics" covers the top cases from 1896 to the present. This book is completely different from anything ever published before on this fascinating subject. Each case is brought to the readers attention by a large illustration. One illustration for every case. Each case is one one page. The illustration is on top with text below. The case name and date is presented in such a way that it surrounds the 1/2-page illustration for easy reference. So, for one month only this large magazine will sell for $.75 (seventy-five cents) to "Flying Saucer Digest" subscribers only. After July 15, 1968 the price of "FLYING SAUCER CLASSICS" will go up to $1.00. So hurry, be the first to own this new and fascinating magazine "FLYING SAUCER CLASSICS". (see back cover).

To all those who submitted comments and/or articles to the "Readers Say" column and has not seen his or her name in print, I can answer by saying we just cannot print all the letters or parts of. We just do not have the space.

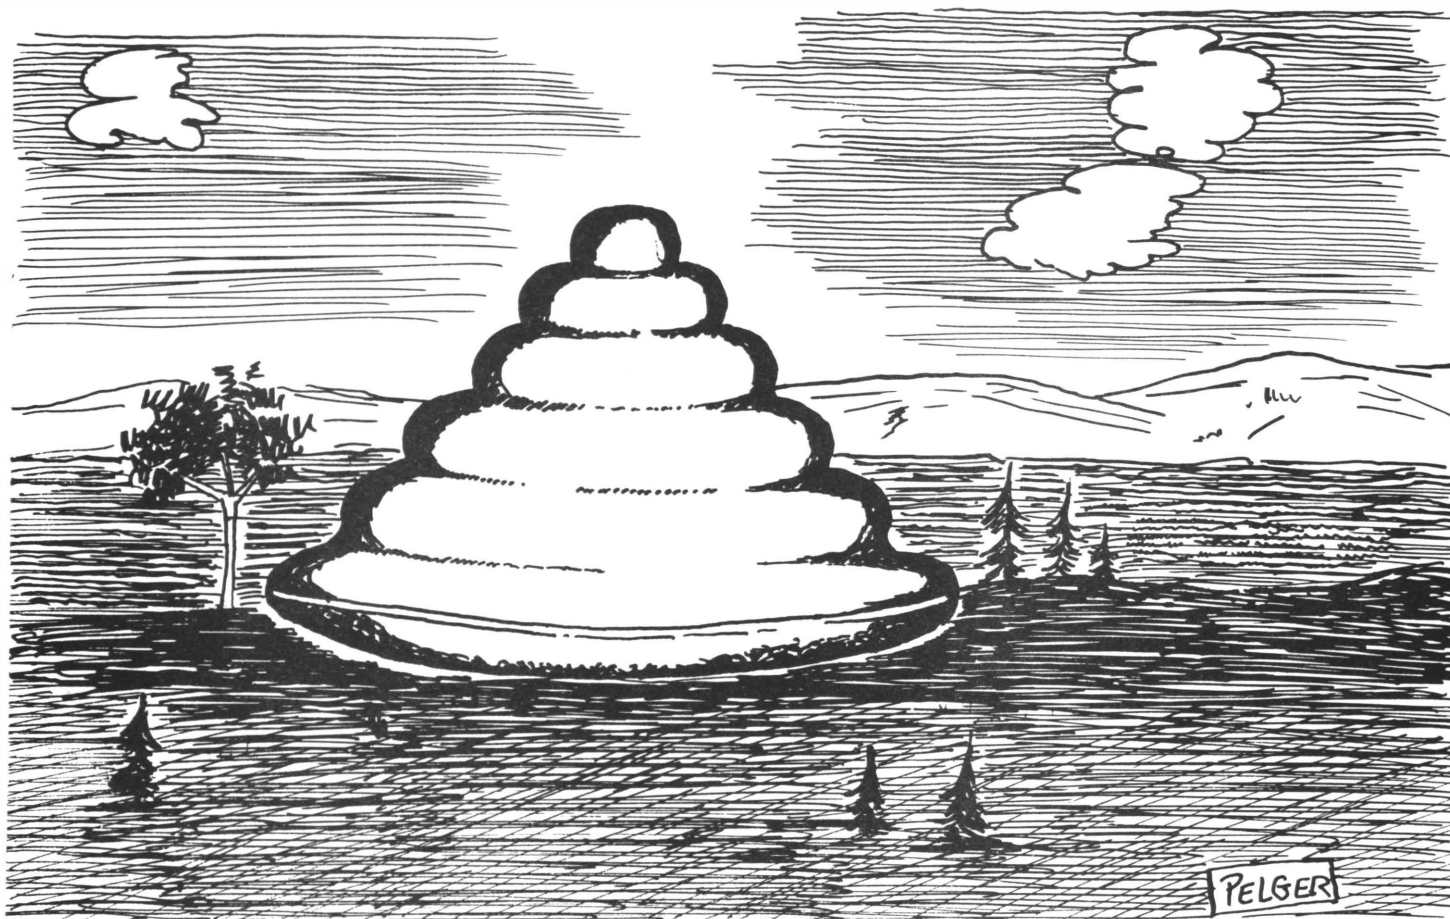

Speaking of space. Astronomers were receiving signals from 200 light years away from a point in the milky way. At first they thought this is some sort of intelligent signal, but they now know it was a new kind of star called a Neutron.

STRANGE OBJECT

Late one afternoon, on December 21, 1964, a Mr. Horace Burns of Grottoes, Va. said he saw a huge "bee-hive" shaped UFO land in a field alongside U.S. Rt. 250 near Fisherville, Va. Burns said he was driving his car along the highway when his motor cut off completely just as the object crossed the road ahead of him and landed in a small meadow about 100 yards off the highway.

The object was described to be about 80 to 90 feet high with a diameter of 125 feet. Around the base of the object was a bluish glow. No windows, doors, or portholes were seen.

The object rested on the ground for about 90 seconds before it rose suddenly in the air making a great "whooshing" sound and zoomed away.

The Air Force investigated and said there was no evidence of a UFO in the area, but earlier investigations with a Geiger counter, gave a reading of radiation.

ANALYSIS IN ASTRONOMY

COMETS

Comets are actually "planet-sized" members of the solar system and of which carry many mysteries. They are, however, not always visible on their trips around the solar system.

A comet contains gases and enormous amounts of large meteoritic material. They glow in the nighttime sky as sunlight ionizes the gases in them and they shine by reflecting sunlight as the planets and our moon do.

Some comets have a tail which may stretch out over millions of miles in length, but in others, there is no tail at all. Material thrown off from the head of a comet accounts for such a tail. The tail is known to generally point away from the Sun due to the solar winds.

In the head of a comet is the "nucleus" and the haze around it is called the "coma". The head may be very tremendous in size. Some from about 35,000 to well over a million miles across.

Periodic comets, such as Halley's comet, travel in elliptical orbits around the solar system. Their appearance may change from one visit to the next and after many appearances may not be seen again. They probably disintegrate.

METEORS

Meteors, often termed as "shooting stars" are bits of stone and iron travelling through space which very often enter the Earth's atmosphere at fantastic speeds. They then tend to streak across the nighttime sky as a long bright flare caused by the friction with the air. Most are white, yellow, or blue in color. Many meteors burn up before they reach the ground. However, there are a great number of fragments which make contact with the Earth. These are termed as "meteorites" which appear to be melted or fused on the outside of them.

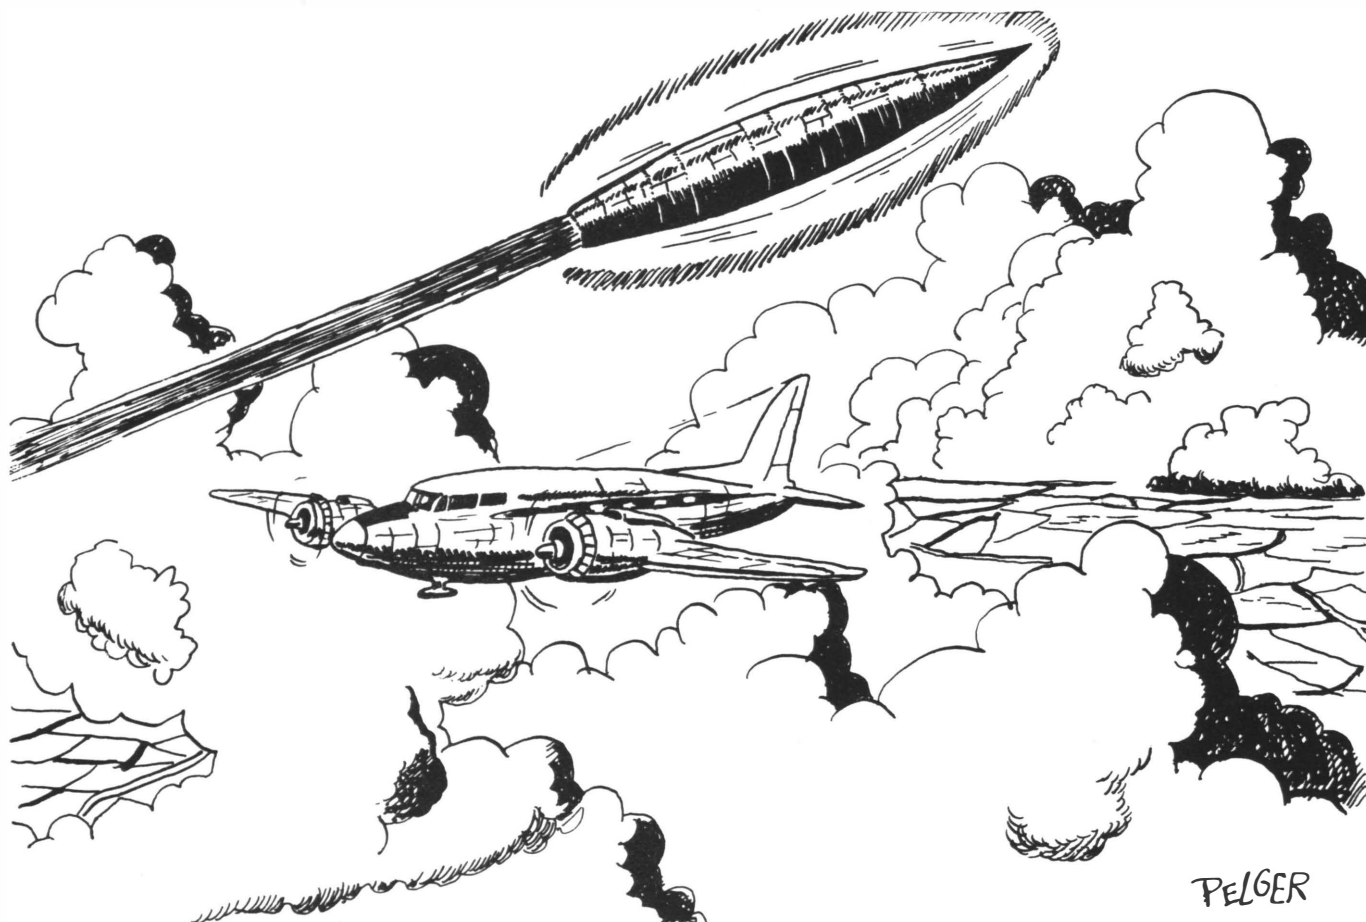

A slow, very bright meteor is called a "fireball". Their long flared trail usually remains visible for quite some time. The fireballs that explode are called "bolides". The path of fireballs and bolides are generally crooked with several explosions.

UFO RETROSPECTIVE

On July 24, 1948 at 2:45 AM. Captain C. S. Chiles and first officer John B. Whitted were flying near Montgomery, Alabama, when a brilliant cigar-shaped craft came hurtling toward them.

Captain Chiles later told investigators "it flashed down toward us." "It was a wingless aircraft, 100 feet long, cigar shaped, and about twice the diameter of a B-29 with no protruding surfaces." "We veered to our left. It veered to its left and passed us about 700 feet to our right and above us." "The cabin appeared like a pilot compartment, only brighter. The illumination inside approximated the brilliance of a magnesium flare. "We saw no occupants. From the side of the craft came an intense, fairly dark blue glow that ran the entire length of the fuselage...like a blue fluorescent factory light." "The exhaust was a red-orange flame that extended 30 to 50 feet behind the object." "Then as if the pilot had seen us and wanted to avoid us, pulled up with a tremendous burst of flame from the rear...and zoomed into the clouds, it rocked our DC-3."

I MET A SPACEMAN

Dr. Daniel Fry, on the evening of a very warm 4th of July, 1950, claims that he came in contact with a remotely controlled space craft which landed near the White Sands Proving Grounds near the city of Las Cruces, New Mexico where he was employed as a researcher in guided missile systems for our rockets.

While out strolling down a bumpy road, heading toward Las Cruces to see a fireworks display, Daniel Fry could not help to notice the countless number of stars twinkling in the very beautiful summer sky. He was amazed to see a few stars in the heavens suddenly "go out". Then an object appeared to be moving in the direction straight toward Fry which looked to be almost the color of the evening sky. The movement of the object caused the stars to seem to go out as it blocked the view of them. Fry stood froze in his tracks, as a saucer shaped object came to rest on the ground about 50 feet away from him. The craft made no noise as it came down, was of a silver color (like highly polished chrome) and had no openings, windows, or seams.

Dr. Fry ventured closer to examine the ship when a voice came out of the silent night telling him not to touch the craft, for it was still hot. A conversation was suddenly underway and in no time at all Fry was invited aboard the pilotless craft and flown from near White Sands to New York City and back in 30 minutes, a speed of 8000 miles per hour.

During his flight, Dr. Fry conversed with a Captain "Aylan" who spoke from a "mother ship" high above the Earth. Fry claims Aylan revealed many secrets of space laws, time, gravity, and space travel to him.

After his first meeting, Fry did not hear from Aylan until April 21, 1954 when he made another contact.

Dr. Daniel Fry wrote a popular book titled "The White Sands Incident" in which further information may be learned of his claims.

WHO SAID THAT?

Industrial Research, November, 1967

Some of Surveyor 5's results gave credence to theories that the moon is very much like the Earth in composition, it has a distinct crust and a "hot" core, and still is being shaped in part by volcanic activity and probably was formed during the "big bang" creation of the universe.

Alpha backscatter devices aboard the spacecraft signaled Earth that its samples contained Earth-like oxygen (about 58%) carbon (about 3%), and less than 1% iron.

Equally surprising was the fact that the samples appeared to be common basalt—an ordinary and plentiful igneous material on Earth. Oxygen in such abundance makes a manned lunar colony quite feasible—and the low iron concentration helps even more because it lessens the possibility of magnetic interference with instrumentation on later landings by astronauts—or even cosmonauts.

However bright the future looks, the moon's conquerors still will have to bring food—especially cheese.

Industrial Research, February, 1968

Unidentified objects once were thought to be the exclusive property of neurotic minds in the Western hemisphere—particularly in the U.S. And until recently, the Soviet political and scientific communities seemed quite bent on perpetrating this viewpoint while, at the same time, denying that such foolishness as UFO's existed in Russia.

Now, it seems the Soviets after all do have a scientific interest in UFO's. For the first time, a Soviet astronomer recently admitted that UFO's had been sighted over Russia. Another, a Soviet Air Force general, revealed that an official commission had been seated to investigate the phenomena.

The astronomer, Dr. Feliks Zigel of the Moscow Aviation Institute, is calling for a global investigation of UFO's, citing them "a problem that can be solved only by joint effort of all the scientists of the world."

Zigel claims the most popular Soviet UFO is "a luminous orange colored crescent flying with its outward bend forward." He also reports that a scientific team already studied some 200 reports of sightings, including those by astronomers at the Kazan and Koslovodsk observatories.

At least one American scientist, Dr. J. Allen Hynek, cautions that such a Soviet revelation can only mean that they are signaling the start of a race to solve the UFO puzzle. "We know enough now about the way the USSR announces its scientific advances--the element of surprise the Russians have built into every step of their space program is one example--to guess that a Soviet scientist would hardly call for "a many-sided careful investigation" of a phenomenon unless such an investigation already were going on."

BEINGS IN ARGENTINA

By Robert S. Easley

According to the Commission of Unidentified Flying Objects in Argentina "Martians" were in the region of Torrent on a dark, moonless night in January, 1965. The witnesses who saw the beings were a group of farmers and peons.

It began when five luminous objects were seen traveling at great speed near the horizon. They were in the shape of discs. A few minutes later the "Martians" were seen.

The supposed "Martians" were about two meters high, slender and had only one eye in the middle of the forehead. A projection was seen on the head that sent out a dense ray of light. As yet no feasible use has been found for this ray of light.

By this time one of the peons had grabbed a gun but for some reason he could not pull the trigger. The "Martians", seeing the danger, grabbed a peon for hostage but when no more attacks came up he was released. The "Martians" then left by disappearing in the density of a nearby mountain.

According to the account, the man who was seized had a strange disease on his arm, the cause of which has not yet been established.

Another case was reported to the Commission by a Mr. Carlos Soreriou. According to Carlos, he and his brothers had a fight with strange beings two and a half meters high. After the incident the brothers were very scared and frightened.

While returning to the farm late at night the brothers came upon the beings. One brother raised his machete to strike the beings but his arm immediately became paralyzed. Another brother shot his .22 rifle at them. He couldn't get off a second shot because the rifle jammed although it had never done so before.

The peons then ran for safety. Reaching their truck they then drove to a neighboring farmhouse where they spent the night. The next morning when they returned the beings were no where to be seen.

These reports, and others, indicate that small humanoid beings were in the country of Argentina in 1965. Their purpose, as yet, is unknown but they did succeed in terrorizing the Argentina country side.

ARE THE SAUCERS SPACE ANIMALS?

From the time Kenneth Arnold saw his undulating, shining "saucers", in June, 1947, until Buck Fitzgerald and Mase Garney, two desert prospectors, claimed that they watched a flying saucer land and a little fellow jump out and run off, in August 19, 1949, a period of over two years, there was no mention of saucer crewmen landing or making conversation with earthmen by sign language, mental telepathy, or speech.

But the Fitzgerald-Garney, affair, carried by news service, touched off a veritable chain reaction of "little men" tales. In English-speaking countries the "little men have magically grown up into benevolent "guardians" or "masters" seriously concerned with the cosmic effects of atomic experimentation. In France and Italy, the crewmen remain diminutive, elf-like, and surprisingly enough, assume the physical characteristics and mannerisms of the countrymen.

Even research groups have rearranged their concepts of the flying saucers. For example = a cigar-shaped, winged object seen against the moon over San Diego during the meteor shower of 1946 was described by a medium as a space ship piloted by benevolent people "west of the moon" (and presumably "east of the sun," as in the song title). Now it has magically evolved from a creaking vehicle of balsa wood and metal alloy covering, with electric motors to propel its huge wings, into a sleek "aeroform", piloted by "guardians" who are supposed to be warning us, by their senseless aerial gyrations and aerial explosions, against the careless use of the atom bomb.

The United States Air Force, through a series of admissions and denials, has left the issue hanging in mid-air, ripe fruit to be plucked by science-fiction opportunists. Within the past several years these writers have released a number of patently fiction "flying saucer" books (but called the gospel truth) on a gullible public. I have studied each instance of alleged human contact with a space man or space woman and have found none halfway convincing.

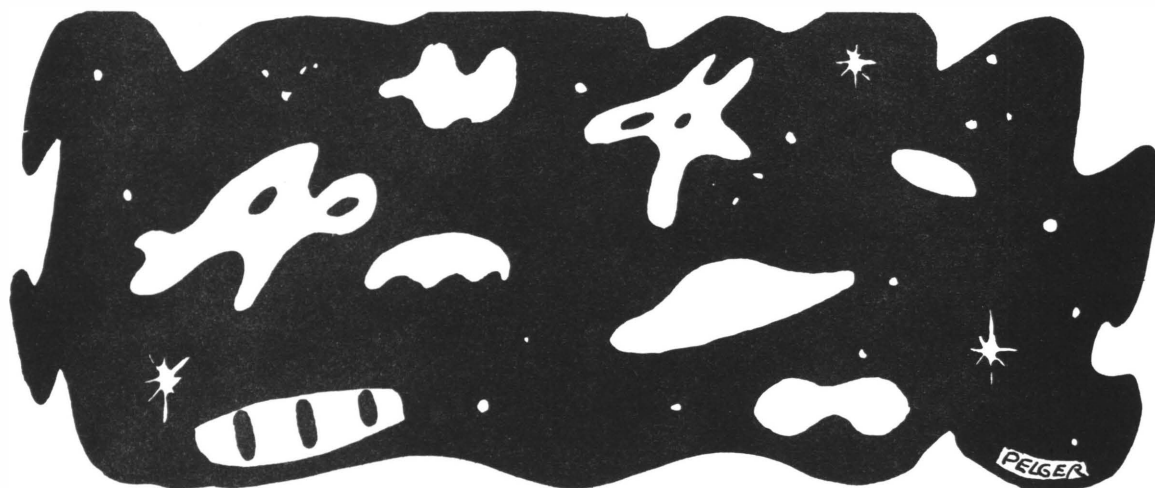

I do not imply, here that space travel is an impossibility or that other planets are uninhabited. Indeed, if our earth is not speeding around the sun approximately 18 miles a second, and if our constellation is not hurtling toward Vega at about the same rate of speed--as our orthodox astronomers assure us--our earth might easily be visited by inhabitants of other planets and in turn we might easily visit them, if they exist.

We know that time is a many dimensional thing, that it both exists and does not exist, that it is relative. By the same token, if there is any merit to my theory of the homogeneity of opposites, the earth both moves and does not move in space in a four--or more dimensional system of motion and non-motion. Research seems to indicate that this theory is applicable to various objects in haunted dwellings.

Many have seen "impossible" instances of locked, bolted and nailed doors bursting open, only to be found seconds later securely locked, bolted and nailed as before. A calendar on the wall of a haunted building in New Orleans, although firmly glued to the surface, spun like a pinwheel before the eyes of amazed onlookers. Yet it was found, moments later, glued to the wall as before.

There was the time when the sun "danced" in the sky over a large group of people on a hill in Portugal. They had assembled to view a miracle the Virgin had promised the devout children at Fatima. A photograph of the misplaced sun appeared in Life magazine. At the time of the occurrence astronomers in other parts of the world noticed nothing peculiar about the sun's behavior.

I have in my possession an account of a husband and wife who had retired for the night in a haunted house. They were awakened by the sensation of the floor collapsing. They felt themselves falling and panicked, only to find, moments later, that the floor was as solid as before.

Perhaps the entire cosmic plan of the universe is based on a many dimensional, paranormal system of superphysics.

In July, 1947, I submitted to the Air Force a theory I had evolved reading Kenneth Arnold's description of the flight of the silvery discs. He described them as undulating, or weaving back and forth. An undulating motion characterizes many poltergeist-propelled objects, and many of the aerial discs zig-zagged, or "skipped" through the sky like a flat pebble thrown along the surface of a creek, or sailed along on edge, and often exploded, or vanished, into thin air.

Because of this I contended that the "flying discs" (as they were first called) are a form of space animal, or creature, of a highly attenuated (ectoplasmic?) substance, capable of materialization and dematerialization, whose propellant in a form of telekinetic energy.

There is a saying that Nature abhors a vacuum. If the seas of our earth are swarming with varieties of living things, both great and small, is it not logical to assume that the "sea" of our sky abounds with sundry forms of living things, likewise both great and small, of varied shapes, but adaptable to their celestial environment? Some may be quite invisible, others translucent, others opaque, still others capable of changing, chameleon-like, from one color to another, from one form to another, from visibility to complete invisibility, all in a moment.

Keeping an account of each new sighting on a large map, I noted that there appeared to be "saucer" zones or "belts" wherein the phenomena were more apt to be observed. I found that there was a predominance of sightings along both coasts, and that the northwestern part of the United States seemed extremely favored. I noted a "belt" extending from British Columbia, Oregon and Washington, through Idaho, Indiana, southern Ohio and into West Virginia.

I noted that remarkably few sightings occurred in Pennsylvania, and that the great industrial area of Pittsburgh was practically shunned by the sky objects, whereas such cities as Dayton, Columbus, and Cincinnati, Ohio, were frequently visited by the aerial saucers.

A recent survey of ghosts showed that Great Britain is one of the surface of the earth and that Sussex, in England, can boast more hauntings than any other spot in that country.

Is there some energy, magnetic or otherwise, in the ground or in the air, which attracts or gives vitality to, both ghosts and flying saucers? Disc-shaped objects are more likely to be observed in the northwestern states and along the eastern coast, whereas torpedo--or cigar-shaped--objects are more likely to be seen in the Alabama, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia areas.

In reviewing the monumental "Books of Charles Fort", I noted the prevalence of aerial phenomena during the 1870s, 1880s and 1890s, and discovered that these years saw record and near-record breaking weather, exactly as we are experiencing today. Is the current outburst of saucer sightings evidence that our aerial visitors are "migrating" into our atmosphere, forced here, possibly, by some solar, or cosmic, cyclic disturbance occurring in outer space, which is also the cause of our odd weather?

Fort mentions an instance of a flying saucer hanging low over Niagara Falls during a meteor shower on the night of November 13, 1833, and also a "very brilliant, hook-like form" seen in the sky at Poland, Trumbull County, Ohio, at the same time. It remained visible for more than an hour.

Possibly these leviathans of the air seek shelter in the dense atmosphere of our earth during meteor showers and other disturbances, as ships seek harbor during a tempest at sea. Within recent years we have read of the migration of fishes into waters previously foreign to them, and of the intrusion of wild animals into areas in which they never before had been observed.

Did the mysterious, sustained vibration of the earth noted by seismologists in the early part of January, 1948, cause the huge "flaming red cone, trailing a green mist" to fly low over Clinton County, Ohio, on the night of January 8, 1948?

There are bonafide reports of "saucers" the size of tennis balls, or larger than "Constellation" planes, and of shapes that vary from perfectly square to perfectly round, from paper-thin to very thick. Probably the phenomena represent varied species of aerial organisms. The luminescence observed in some may be analogous to that of the luminescent deep-sea-fish, or the mysterious glow of the fire-fly.

Some of the disc-shaped objects may be likened to the clam or oyster, with a semi-material "shell" to facilitate its passage through space. The huge, bulletshaped object, with bands around it, seen in East Africa by the passengers of an aerial transport, might be the analogue of a striped, eel-like fish found in the ocean.

There are reports of tailed saucers which certainly support my space animal theory. On May 16, 1808, at approximately four p.m. a vast procession of dark brown, circular bodies, with tails "three or four fathoms long", sailed over Skeninge Sweden, causing the sun to turn a deep brick red by their passage. Occasionally one of the weird objects would fall to earth, leaving a "soapy or jellied" film which soon vanished (Transactions of the Swedish Academy of Sciences, 1808-215).

In September, 1950, during the unexplained phenomenon of the "purple sun", a purple-glowing, six-foot globe fell lightly onto a field in Philadelphia, scarcely bending the grass with its weight. Touched by one of the policemen who saw the object gall, it dematerialized into a jelly-like mass which soon disappeared.

There were several early accounts of airplanes being "frozen" in mid-air by nearby flying saucers. Could these mysterious objects exert a force equivalent to the potent charge of the electric eel? Count the heavy trail of smoke-like substance seen coming from certain torpedo-shaped objects be the equivalent of the "ink" ejected by the octopus? Could the brilliant searchlight beamed down on earth by some of these objects be equivalent to the glowing lantern of the deep sea lantern-fish?

In my Brown Mountain, N.C., researches I learned from witnesses that many of the unexplained lights seen on its summit emitted a sizzling noise. How often we read of flying saucers emitting sizzling, humming, or howling sounds! Evidence points to the Brown Mountain lights, which vary from light green to orange-pink in color, being of paranormal origin, possibly of an electrical sort of energy akin to that of the flying saucer. "Ball lightning" and St. Elmo's fire may be elemental relatives of the flying saucer!

It is impossible to discern where the meteorological ends and the supernormal begins. We read of unknown bodies tearing through the structure of airplanes while in flight, or ripping through signboards and continuing on their way. There is even an instance of an object supposedly making a hole in a store window in a New York town and magically sealing it up again.

Are mystery objects which pass through solid objects necessarily solid themselves? I believe not. At Clydesdale, Scotland, (near Paisley) in the year 1295, an extremely powerful ghost haunted the home of Sir Duncan, wrestling and throwing those who sought to disturb it. Arrows shot at it and pitchforks thrown at it burned upon contact with its body. There are accounts of ghosts bending the barrels of muskets, setting objects on fire, choking people to death, or striking blows.

Often flying saucers are described as having a halo about them. Such an object was seen by the Rev. Cedric Wright, Vicar of Seighford (near Stafford), England, one night in July, 1954. He, his wife and son described it as a weird, crab-like object, emitting a light burnished gold, with a halo above it and long "feelers" extending from its dome-shaped body. They said it moved back and forth near their house, about 80 feet in the air, for nearly an hour before disappearing.

"Acceleration" apparently does not cause the change in color of a flying saucer. There are accounts of these strange objects being an assortment of colors together. Are the changes of colors due to the thought process of these aerial denizens?

We shudder when we read of the many falls of flesh and blood from the sky in times past and wonder whether a species of "saucer" is carnivorous, finding animals and humans a tasty dish. A report from France tells of a man becoming enmeshed in a fall of "angel hair" from the sky. It is claimed that only after a battle did he escape from being pulled up into the air. Fort often claimed we were "fished for" by aerial intruders.

We read of the weird disappearance of the occupants of sailing ships, of the strange disappearance into thin air of the 25 or 30 inhabitants of the Eskimo village on Hudson's Bay in November, 1930. We read of the C-46 (which Kenneth Arnold was hunting when he saw the group of flying saucers) with 32 Marines on it which crashed in 1947. The plane was found, but there was no trace of a single body in or about the wreckage.

We read of Oliver Lerch, the Indiana boy who went down to the spring to draw a bucket of water one winter's night and who was caught up into the sky, his cries for help fading in the distance. We read of "thunkerstones" falling to earth. They are almost always wedge-shaped, and we wonder if they are the implements of ancient hunters who were abducted by carnivorous species of flying saucer, having lain, perhaps for centuries, in some limbo of the sky. We wonder what effect these flying saucers have upon the very "Gates of Heaven".

Do they frighten or subsist upon the souls of the departed, as the ancients hinted, with their belief in the "Devourer of Souls"? Surely the Church should be concerned about these things.

We look to so-called "mediums" for some answer and find a wide variety of "explanations" from their colorful "guides", ranging from "reflections of cosmic ray apparatus" to sage and esoteric "Elder Brethren" from Venus.

Meanwhile, the Air Force has clamped strict censorship on all American and most foreign sightings. There is little doubt that the Air Force, disdaining to admit that the flying saucers border on the preternatural, prefer to let the subject rest, knowing that science-fiction writers and amateurish publications will finish off what Donald Menzel, the champion of the "mirage" notion, failed to complete.

If the intelligent and sober segment of the American public does not want to sit idly by and see the subject of flying saucers thus buried in the grave of fantasy-fiction and the ridiculous, let each one beg the Air Force and our American news services to remove all censorship, eliminate all suppression, concerning the greatest phenomena of our time.

After all, it is OUR sky, too!

The Dan Fry Saucer Photos

Some of the most impressive Flying Saucer pictures ever taken were filmed on 16mm color motion picture film by scientist and world-famous contactee, Dr. Daniel W. Fry.

AFSCA now offers these two sets of 4" x 5" Black and White glossy prints (4 prints per set) to our readers for $1.00 per set (see photos above). We feel that these remarkable sets of photos offer some of the best and most authentic photographic evidence yet obtained of Flying Saucers.

We challenge anyone to reasonably deny the authenticity of these photos with anything but pure dogmatic opinion. To throw a garbage can lid in the air and to take a blurry photo of it is one thing. But to get clear, sharp and detailed photos of obviously unique hardware, like the photos shown here, is quite another. Don't you agree?

SAME OLD SONG

It comes as no surprize to the UFO publisher when an old song is heard. The song, "The so-called UFO's that were seen over Ohio the evening of March 3, 1968 between the hours of 9:45 P.M. and 10:30 P.M. were Russian rocket booster fragments".

We at U.A.P.A. are very much confused. The reason being that the control tower operators at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport are just as puzzled as we are. The chief flight controller at the Hopkins tower said "We have no idea what it was, and there is no way I know of to find out. Because the three objects were unknown, it was impossible to determine size, speed and altitude."

The three unknown objects we first saw at 9:45 P.M. coming from the southwest to the northeast. They were of a brilliant yellow-orange in color. They were in a triangle formation with one object in front of the other two. All three had long orange tails that were estimated to be from 50 to 75 times the diameter of the objects, at arms-length, and to the eye the length was from 10 to 12 inches. Some witnesses declared to watch these UFO's from 2 to 3 minutes.

But the real test to our intelligence came when the Case Western Reserve University observatory said "it was a meteor breaking up in the atmosphere."

A meteor can and does break up in the atmosphere. A meteor can and does have yellow-orange color. A meteor can and does travel from southwest to northeast. But a meteor does not, repeat does not last 120 to 180 seconds. The longest duration is from 7 to 9 seconds, maximum.

Read what an expert says about UFOs... what you should know. To ignore the UFO problem could prove to be disastrous and it is because of widespread ignorance of the subject, coupled with scientific negligence, that inspired the author to make a personal study of what UFOs are, where they come from, and why they are here. The speed and maneuverability of the elusive UFOs give credence to the fact that they are not earth-made and it is for this reason that many have formed a hypothesis that flying saucers are some form of extraterrestrial probe. This authoritative book gives an open-minded approach to the subject and the author insists that although the evidence he gathered over a fifteen year period leans heavily in favor of UFOs being of an extraterrestrial origin, it is still a hypothesis.

The reader familiar with UFO accounts will find much new material here, sightings not previously widely reported. The book serves also as an excellent introduction for those reading about this fascinating phenomenon for the first time.

Book contains many photographs.

This fine hard back book is in the David McKay Spring 1968 Catalog, and you can order it now from your favorite book store.

This is a complete survey of the sighting of flying saucers, starting in 1860 and coming up to the present, with descriptive details of where, when, and what the sightings were, accounts of the witnesses, opinions pro and con, and a report on what U. S. Government agencies are doing about investigating the sightings.

Loftin approaches the controversial subject from both sides, giving accounts of those sightings that still remain unexplained by natural causes, as well as those sightings that turned out to be hoaxes. He has worked closely with UFO organizations to get their analyses of sightings, and includes accounts of flying saucers seen not only in the United States but abroad as well.

Pictured at right, above, the author, Robert Loftin confers with Dr. Edward Condon, head of the U. of C. UFO project.

HERE ARE 29 OF THE MOST INCREDIBLE FLYING SAUCER PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN ANYWHERE ON THE FACE OF THIS EARTH. Read these startling excerpts from the 1000 word fact sheet that comes with each set.

VILLA SET NO. 1

"The bottom of the disc was tinted amber red like hot metal but would change in color from a shiny chrome to a dull aluminum and back to a bright red. At one time it became so intensely bright reddish that its brilliance shone like the sun and was almost unbearable to look at . . ."

"The ship landed on its tripod landing gear and nine crew members disembarked from under the disc-shaped bottom through a door that seemed to appear from nowhere. There were five women and four men, all beautiful people, immaculately groomed wearing tight-fitting one piece uniforms . . ."

VILLA SET NO. 2

"The lower branches of the trees in the foreground are blurry because of the miniature tornado created by the saucer. The wind turbulence in the area was so high Mr. Villa thought that he and his truck would be blown away. Then without warning, the wind suddenly stopped instantly, as though it were shut off. The surrounding air became quite hot and there was dead silence . . ."

"As the craft approached it shot a bright ray at the ground causing the brush and trees to burst into flames to demonstrate some of their capabilities. It shot another beam of light and the fire was put out instantly. In a few minutes the ship landed on its tripod landing gear seen protruding from the bottom . . ."

VILLA SET NO. 3

"The rod sticking up from the top of the dome may be thought to be an antenna but it is not. It is an optical device incorporating a combination of prisms and lenses and the entire unit can be retracted downward into the dome . . ."

"The saucer is accompanied by several spheres which manifested in a cascade of changing colors from a shining aluminum to gleaming chrome then to a bright red or the sparkling blue of an arc welders torch . . ."

"Their speed and maneuverability were incredible for they flitted about like butterflies or raced crazily at high velocity in an array of orbital patterns . . ."

"The manned saucer is about 42 feet in diameter. It hovered about 5 feet off the ground and one individual, presumably the pilot, disembarked . . ."

SAUCER SCIENCE SECTION IS ADDED TO THE PERPETUAL MOTION JOURNAL

IF you are interested in the facts behind the power sources of U.F.O.'s be sure to read the PERPETUAL MOTION JOURNAL which is dedicated to a serious evaluation of all future free energy sources. The JOURNAL does not take a position on whether there are saucers or not but is adding the SAUCER SCIENCE section for a serious exploration to such questions as: How can saucers develop such fantastic speeds and turn such tight corners? How can UFO's burn persons from the inside out? How can saucers impair sight and hearing and push objects from a distance? These questions and others answered by John P. Bergerson and other authors. Read about startling events in 1968 such as the establishment of the Institute of Electrical Inversion in Moscow Russia to seek free energy electrical perpetual motion as reported by Scientific Research and how in U.S.A. "through supercold electronics we may yet realize the promised splendors of perpetual motion". Read also Maxwell's Demon Concept, Entropy reversal, field force, anti-gravity, gravity wheels, historical review, and large Bibliography.
